A close-up view of the calendar grid for Tuesday (TUE) and Wednesday (WED). The dates 1 through 8 are shown, with the day names and icons (fire for Tuesday, water for Wednesday) clearly visible. The grid is color-coded to match the month's theme.
